

95 YEARS FOR THE love OF OUR KIDS

The Good Friday Appeal is a not-for-profit charity proudly marking its 95th year of raising funds to support The Royal Children's Hospital, Melbourne, enabling the delivery of the highest quality care for sick children and their families every day.

For 95 years, the Appeal has helped fund everything from health promotion and prevention initiatives to emergency services and the ongoing care and specialist treatment children need. Today, The Royal Children's Hospital continues to provide world-class healthcare for families across Victoria, Australia, and around the globe, thanks to the generosity and commitment of the community.
